

Simon Cheng

Vancouver, BC

Phone: +1 (778) 554-0761 | E-mail: simon.cheng@alumni.ubc.ca

Testimonials

---

“I have worked very closely with Simon during the several months while he has served as a Mobilisation Coordinator in my venue. Simon has excelled in this role and maintained one of the highest levels of productivity. He produced a high volume of relations while maintaining high standards for quality and accuracy. The great success of the technology volunteers is also because of Simon.” – Daniele Tagliabue, Manager, London Organising Committee of the Olympic and Paralympic Games

“Simon stood out in a group of young, eager and polished staff members recruited by our company for the Vancouver 2010 Olympic Winter Games. He was willing to put in the long hours necessary to make our operation possible. He was sharp and could easily be trusted to interact with our high profile clients.” – Stan Strickland, Manager, National Broadcasting Company (NBC Olympics) for the Vancouver 2010 Winter Games

“Simon has a fearless attitude, good negotiation skills and a friendly and enthusiastic disposition. He showed great tenacity and forward thinking on the Planning Session Workshop for the 11th Floor, and was not afraid to think ‘outside the box,’ and showed great perseverance in dealing with the contracts for guest speakers. He has an optimistic and infectious personality and I enjoyed working with him.” – Janna Kumi, Negotiator, Indian and Northern Affairs Canada

“Simon has consistently demonstrated positive strengths throughout his co-op experience. The feedback from his supervisors proves that Simon has a lot to offer future employers and I have been impressed by his dedication to co-op and his commitment to personal growth. I highly recommend Simon.” – Coby Fulton, Coordinator, Arts Co-op Program, University of British Columbia

“Simon has gone above and beyond in trying to ensure that the 11th floor planning session was developed in a way that met all of our interests and his follow up has been great. I really appreciated the extra work Simon took on to ensure that the contracts for four guest speakers were in place” – Bill Wray, Acting Director of Negotiations, Indian and Northern Affairs Canada

“Simon developed good working relationships with others in the unit, both those he worked with directly and others in the broader Treaty and Aboriginal Policy Directorate team. The Pacific Aboriginal Fisheries Framework provided good opportunities for building his analytical skills” – Brigid Payne, Manager, Treaties and Aboriginal Policy Directorate, Department of Fisheries and Oceans Canada

“I observed Simon to be keenly interested in our subject matter, respectful of the table process, professional and intelligent. I am surprised by the knowledge that Simon has gained in such a short time at TAG, and he demonstrates maturity, and a keen interest in our work.” – Leigh Freeman, Assistant Negotiator, Indian and Northern Affairs Canada

“A couple areas of strength I noticed with Simon are that he is open-minded, is inquisitive about our work and has good communication skills with both the First Nations and Provincial Government representatives.” – Ray Peterson, Negotiator, Indian and Northern Affairs Canada

“Simon was an active student who was extensively involved on campus and within the community. His articles published in The Point, a campus newspaper, were insightful and well written to explain complex fitness subjects in clear, concise terms. Simon is a caring individual always open to sharing his expertise in a vast array of areas; for me, he was always quick to give friendly advice on indoor rock-climbing techniques.” – May Lee, Student at University of British Columbia